"You'll never be lucky in love until you end 'B.O.'"
Yet, to be polite,
SHE SAID:
"Your heart line shows many difficulties ahead."

"Luck" was always against him...until he ended "B.O." (Body Odor)

SOMEONE else got the job he wanted. Someone else won the girl he admired. "Bad luck," he called it. But the real reason was "B.O."!

One day a close friend told him what his fault was, and how to correct it. Today he is forging ahead in business—a favorite socially. "B.O."—body odor—no longer handicaps him.

• • •

Often we wonder why we don't succeed faster—make friends easier. "B.O." may be the unsuspected cause.

For everyone perspires. Science declares that even on cool days pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste. Unnoticed by us, because we soon become accustomed to it, this ever-present odor may be a constant annoyance to others.

Don't take chances. Adopt the simple precaution of millions of particular men and women. Wash and bathe regularly with Lifebuoy. Its gentle, creamy, antiseptic lather purifies pores so deeply that "B.O." completely vanishes. And how gloriously fresh—how satisfyingly clean you feel!

Keeps complexions youthful

Clogged pores stifle complexion beauty. Lifebuoy's soothing, penetrating lather gently frees pores of impurities—makes dull skins bloom with healthy youthful radiance. Its pleasant extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

AN OLD TIMER MADE UP-TO-DATE

Once the handsomest house on the street but in modern eyes now sadly behind the times When the experienced builder clothed it with fresh lines it became the home shown above Study these before and after views—they show how simple modernization really is

The clean lines and modern appearance of this residence does not reveal its true age Yet it was built back in the World's Fair days of us when architects had different ideas

Builders Work Marvels With Old Style Houses

Pictures Illustrate Wonders Accomplished Through Proper Application. Building Becomes Up-to-Date After Old Porch Is Eliminated.

Old Porches Torn Away

Above on the second floor the single w n w has been replaced by a large opening fi led with two windows

When remodeling the upper floors f the building the roof over the dining room was raised allowing another chamber to be included in the upstairs arrangement

Both the dining room and kitchen have assured more natural daylight by increasing the number of windows

A Modern Interior

The exterior of the dwelling does not reveal the modernization of the interior The floor plan was rearranged to use to the utmost the available space New floors modern plumbing and an abundance of electrical outlets now make the inside of the house more comfortable and homelike The treatment of the walls too was in keeping with modern tendencies

These illustrations show the possibilities that lie dormant in many of the homes of the community Improvements can be made at moderate expense and little inconvenience The return will be great not only in additional comfort but also in increased valuation of the property

Challenge of Pagan Morality

The very foundation of the American home is today being challenged by pagan morality with the same forces which wrecked the home lives and civilizations of earlier eras

Thus might be summarized the report of the special commission on marriage divorce and remarriage named by the Presbyterian General assembly at its session in St Paul last May which cites among the conditions inimical to home life the city ward movement of population the abandonment of homes for apartments with the resultant loss of proprietory interest and pride the feverish activity of present day life, the development of credit systems and installment buying leading to a nervous tension not helpful to family happiness the application of birth control to prevent the coming of children rather than to limit their number the supplanting of home grown moralities by imported vulgarities and open expressions of doubt whether monogamous marriages are really preferable to polygamous

'Granting physical and mental competence says the report to frustrate the coming of children in the Christian home is to frustrate a certain normal development that the Christian monogamic marriage assumes and then it recommends that the following new definition of Christian marriage be studied by the church looking to its adoption

Marriage is an institution ordained of God for the honor and happiness of mankind in which one man and one woman enter into a bodily and spiritual union pledging each to the other mutual love honor fidelity forbearance and watchful such is should a suitable an unbroken continuance of the world lasts so long as both shall live

This institution finds its primary justification in the establishment and maintenance of the Christian home in which children shall be born and nurtured in the Christ ian faith On the side of civil government the church recognizes marriage as a legal contract involving the moral obligations of Christian citizenship

Commenting on present day tendencies the commission states that old time moralities are openly flouted that adultery is a common theme of the stage and the screen and that sex pathology is being advertised by writers of fiction It further refers to the tendency to compound smut and dirt into stories and observes that jazz with its primeval jungle tom tom inspires to contortions of dance unfitting indecent rhythmics which latter appeals to us as not half bad as a bit of humor in a church report

What the action of the Presbyterian General assembly may be on the report of the commission its findings observations and recommendations is to use an expression in line with its indictment of present day paganism upon the knees of the gods but there must be admission that its presentation is not an unfair reflection of much of American life as it is lived today.

Three Fine Services Assured.

[illegible] United States will be maintaining [illegible] service [illegible] Southampton [illegible] Hamburg [illegible] Plymouth [illegible] Hamburg contract call for [illegible] two years from the [illegible] award [illegible] passenger and cargo [illegible] less than 21 000 tons each [illegible] of maintaining a speed of twenty knots and over

Five shipbuilding companies have already submitted bids for the building of the 700 foot 26 000 ton vessels plans for which were approved by the Shipping board last November and the contracts are to be let at once and construction begun The plans for the two 1 000 foot liners are now before the Shipping board If they receive its approval bids will be sought and construction be started on them as soon as the contracts can be let

As the construction of a 700 foot 26 000 ton vessel is far simpler and requires much less time than the building of a thousand footer designed to maintain a speed of twenty eight knots the two vessels ultimately to be operated on the New York Hamburg route have been given construction preference over the two big liners as it is the plan of the United States people to operate the first of the twenty knot vessels with the Leviathan in the New York Southampton service until the first of the big liners is ready for that service As soon as the first big liner is ready for operation the first of the smaller boats will be transferred permanently to the Hamburg run This same plan will be followed by the second smaller boat to be completed and the second big liner

Much has appeared in print in regard to a weekly United States service across the North Atlantic by five day boats but there has always been an if in such announcements The if may now be eliminated as the plans for the two big liners were prepared to meet the approval of the Shipping board the mail contracts necessary to justify their construction have been signed and government loans to assist in financing their construction as well as that of the other vessels to be built as conditions of the three contracts are assured

Thus it is that there will be in operation between New York and England channel ports or beyond five years hence three services of which the United States may be proud to say nothing of high class services under the United States flag over other waters

Editorial Opinion.

RUSSIA IN FRANCE—A PROBLEM

The Chicago Daily [illegible] relates with Russian persecution though the problem may properly be described as rather a European than an American one [illegible] United States [illegible] a return [illegible] Bolshevist [illegible] But it is relatively insignificant and potentially the United States has steered clear of the complications that have for nearly half the European nations These latter with Russia forming part of an immense part of their continent felt that they were obliged to engage Russia because it was impossible to ignore a great neighbor Now most of them are wondering whether there are more advantages or disadvantages in official association

France has already made it impossible for one ambassador Christian Rakovsky to stay and now is seriously demanding whether the present ambassador Valerian Dovalevsky shall be permitted to remain Some months ago the Russian leader of the anti revolutionary movement in Paris General Kutiepoff disappeared in mysterious circumstances Nobody knows what happened to him but the suspicion is that he was kidnapped [illegible] street by Bolshevik whisked off to the Soviet consulate and there embarked on a Soviet vessel The evidence that such a thing occurred is exceedingly slight and it would be wrong to make accusations which can not be substantiated Yet the disappearance has aroused great popular indignation

It is insistently asked whether the Russian government has fulfilled the conditions of its recognition namely the payment of 60 000 000 gold francs a year in repayment of the Russian debt to compensate for expropriated French citizens in Russia and abolition of propaganda There are mass meetings at which the persecution are much against Russia and generally an unpleasant situation is arising which M Briand will sooner or later have to face but it is evident that whether the Russian government responds or not the services of Russian agents in France have become more dangerous since diplomatic relations were resumed in 1924 As in other countries the Russian problem remains unsolved and it is clear that recognition in itself is not sufficient as a solution —Christian Science Monitor

A Bath a Day

BY ROYAL S COPELAND M D

Bathing as a daily habit brings about a sense of physical well being It is a distinct help in maintaining good health

This fact was known and was acted upon by the enlightened races of antiquity The influence of water upon the welfare of the body has been cherished for thousands of years

The Roman legions were probably better disciplined than the raw levies of Gaul Helvetia Austria Germania Spain and Britain But unquestionably they were better housed better fed and better bathed

When occupying enemy territory the Roman army straightway located their camps near lumber food and water These camp sites very frequently became stationary and permanent camps and around them grew considerable numbers of houses Such sites later became towns

Many of these towns—Old Chester—from the word castra meaning camp —and other towns in England including Manchester were Roman camps

After such a camp [illegible] various luxuries were added Always big baths—thermae—were installed Baths of hot and cold water with steam rooms, and all the appurtenances of those of today

There are many people today who visit the cities or baths of Aixles Bains Wiesbaden Carlsbad and Baden Baden How many know that all of them were Roman baths 2000 years ago They were either a part of or near a Roman camp

Architects go to Nimes to see the ancient Roman baths in many places One of the most famous luxurious baths built could be found at Bregenz Switzerland the site of the ancient Roman town of Vindonissa At a very great depth was found this camp with bath in excellent condition with its heating system almost complete

The earliest Greeks also knew the great value of the daily bath High thinking and good living give them eminent distinction

For indoor workers the daily bath is specially needful The skin disposes of a great deal of waste matter of the body It is unable to function properly unless the pores are kept open by frequent bathing

Bathing stimulates the nerves of skin and the general circulation Its good effects are felt in every part of the body

One who is constantly engaged in outdoor work usually has an active skin and the work is carried off the body in the perspiration Strenuous exercise stimulates the liver, lungs and eliminating organs as well as the kidneys and intestines

This is one reason why the outdoor worker who does not exercise at all [illegible] the daily bath, will [illegible] The cold shower or tub [illegible] stimulating, and bracing It keeps the skin active [illegible] thousands of pores which are always about to [illegible] gain a foothold when the skin is kept immaculately clean

The bath temperature [illegible] for the most part [illegible] can not stand the [illegible] for them to pass [illegible]

Water is as essential [illegible] It is a powerful influence [illegible] Both internally and externally [illegible] women and children the most important [illegible]

In the state [illegible] Utah [illegible] The water [illegible] I heard [illegible] world [illegible] was hoped [illegible]

Justus von Liebig.

BY ARCHIBALD W ANDERSON

[illegible] was [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] Darmstadt [illegible] of the [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] studies under an [illegible] Liebig studied chemistry at [illegible] Bonn under Kastner [illegible] the most celebrated chemist in Germany

As a lad of fourteen he had shown [illegible] of attention to his studies and his teacher Gardonnini asked him what he intended to make of himself He replied earnestly that he would become a chemist The laughter which greeted this remark so angered him that he left the school more firmly resolved than ever to become a chemist When Kastner the chemistry professor at Bonn went to Erlangen Liebig followed him thither

A characteristic phrase of this diligent student is found in a letter he wrote his parents from Bonn

I take great pleasure in my studies The more I understand the greater my satisfaction I have begun to realize how little I know and how much I must learn before I can say I know something

Through Kastner's influence and aided by Schleiermacher the finance minister Liebig received a grant—a sort of traveling fellowship—to enable him to pursue his studies in Paris Writing to Schleiermacher from Paris Liebig enthusiastically observes

In no other country do the sciences develop so wonderfully as here and this is because of the highly developed mathematical sense of the French scientists which causes them to reject all useless hypotheses

Gay Lussac handles the subject of chemistry in a way which shows his complete mastery of it and Thenard does the same Experiments are made with lavish expenditure of material The government spends money freely for such purposes

On coming of age Liebig made a remarkable research into the metallic compounds of fulminic acid The experiments were particularly dangerous because of the formidable explosive character of its salts When Liebig completed his brilliant research his world famous teacher Gay Lussac seized him and danced with him around the room in the wooden shoes in which he habitually worked To the surprised young German student the volatile Gay Lussac exclaimed I must do it! It is a habit of mine on the occasion of a new discovery I can only express my ecstasy in the poetry of motion

Justus von Liebig and another young German Friedrich Wohler formed a sort of scientific association or partnership in their chemical researches at Giessen They accomplished scientific wonders together It was one of the most successful partnerships in the entire history of science —Copyright 1930 International Feature Service Inc

Bonds Are Firm But Dull

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 28—Listed bonds were firm but dull in a slow session today. The only active issues in the earlier trading were those affected by special conditions, such as the convertibles which moved irregularly lower on the morning softness of stock prices.

Investment rails clung close to Saturday's final prices on limited inquiry from institutional sources. Utilities and industrials were quiet and steady.

American Telephone convertible 4½s sagged about 3 points, but the selling was only moderate and the bonds met with resistance at the lower levels.

* * *

Selling Forces Utilities Down

NEW YORK, April 28—The curb market broke sharply under heavy selling of the utilities during the early hours of trading today, but substantial support appeared in the early afternoon and rallies were accomplished here and there, under the leadership of some of the oils.

The selling movement appeared to be largely a continuation of the liquidation to which the market was subjected during the major part of last week, although week-end business reviews reported continued slow improvement, the upturn in business has not displayed the vitality expected at this time of year, and this prompted traders further to lighten accounts.

WHEAT PRICE IN LATE GAIN

Reports of Buying in Europe Tend To Force Grain Prices Upward.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 28—Indications that European buying of North American wheat, particularly Northwest, would be stimulated by the new Russian export policy at the start, early offerings here were light and the market rose quickly from the opening unchanged to 4 cents higher, with considerable buying attributed to European sources. Reports of heavy clearances from Russian ports and of a sale of 1,000,000 bushels to Germany were also influential.

Corn and oats developed little independent strength, corn getting most of its support as a result of the sympathetic response to an equal advance in wheat. Provisions were easy.

Friends of higher prices for wheat made much today of assertions that North American exporters had cleared 7,000,000 bushels last week. It was also contended that further absorption of cash wheat at various terminals by farm board stabilization agencies for May contracts suggested that May deliveries can now be taken care without much difficulty. On this basis, all bearish factors were said to have been discounted, and any possible accidents must favor the bulls.

Late advances in Liverpool wheat quotations today tended further to promote speculative buying here. It was pointed out in this connection that world shipments last week, 10,000,000 bushels, were the smallest for any week in a long while. The amount of wheat on ocean passage is now only 35,104,000 bushels, compared with 56,696,000 bushels a year ago.

PASTOR CONVICTED

Rev. J. A. Wilson Faces Prison Term for Shooting of Sexton

By The Associated Press

OTTAWA, Ill., April 28—The Rev. James A. Wilson, pastor of the First Methodist church of Mendota, Ill., was convicted yesterday of shooting his sexton, Amos Elliott, with intent to kill. The penalty is a prison term of one to 14 years.

The sexton had obtained a letter the 50-year-old gray haired minister had written to Mrs. Doris Wagner, a widow in his congregation, asking forgiveness for a proposition not stated in the trial. The Rev. Mr. Wilson went to the Elliott home demanding that the sexton return the letter. An argument ensued and the minister fired two shots, one striking Elliott near the heart, the other lodging in Mrs. Elliott's wrist.
